

VDI WITH TINTRI

IN THE WORDS OF OUR CUSTOMERS

Tintri is the backbone for Virtual Desktop Infrastructure (VDI) efforts at hundreds of customers—supporting hundreds of thousands of desktops. Those companies choose Tintri because we offer the ONLY storage system built specifically for virtualized environments. We let you manage individual VMs for precision and performance—storage that delights customers. Here's their experience and their words:

AVERAGE INSTALL TIME:

"We were struggling with the performance of our VDI desktops. We had an EMC VNX5300 and it was unable to keep up with the IO demand of our virtual server environment and our VDI.

Without Tintri we would have ended up abandoning VDI.

Kris Duffy System Analyst at Schwabe North America

"Tintri has become an invaluable partner in our quest for VDI. Tintri storage is faster, cheaper, and easier to use than the competition.

Scott Zemke, System Engineer at University of Arkansas

"I used to have staff complaining about slow Windows 7 VDI desktops. We implemented Tintri and they have no more complaints.

Geoff Grice, IT Manager at CMC Coal Marketing Company Ltd .

"We have received a tremendous amount of value from Tintri—in operational efficiency, VDI performance, and cost savings—in a very short period of time. With Tintri, there's a huge layer of infrastructure I don't have to worry about anymore. I can now spend my time and attention on delivering more value to the business, not just managing and administering our storage."

Jerry Bishop, Director of IT,
Reinhart Boerner Van Deuren Attorneys at Law

"We purchased our Tintri T540 solution for our VDI deployment and expansion. The ease of installation and configuration was superior. The insight it provides to our virtual infrastructure is invaluable.

Tintri is definitely a major component of our VDI success.

Steven Goodson, Network Administrator,
William Woods University

"I don't have to 'babysit' our VDI storage. Our other SAN needs plenty of "babysitting" and I have better ways of being proactive."

Steven Goodson, Network Support Manager, William Woods University
